M&M to cut production by 25% on semiconductor shortage

The move is estimated to result in a "reduction in production volumes of the automotive division in September 2021, by 20-25%", it added.

In August, the company sold 15,973 units of passenger vehicles in the domestic market against 13,651 units in the same month last year, a growth of 17%. The company, however, said there will be no impact on the production ramp-up and launch plans of its new SUV XUV700.

Markets climb back to record highs

The rupee, meanwhile, settled with a marginal gain of 2 paise at 73.06 (provisional) against the dollar on Thursday.

The yields on 10-year benchmark government bonds have fallen by more than 8 bps since the start of this week as positive domestic cues improved the appetite.

readies new lawsuit against Google

The DOJ under then-Attorney General William Barr sued Google over its search business instead, alleging the company used exclusive distribution deals with wireless carriers and phone makers to lock out competition. That case was followed by a separate antitrust complaint filed by a group of state attorneys general led by Texas, which accused Google of illegally monopolising the digital advertising market.

Finmin to step up scrutiny of capex

For the budgeted goal of ₹5.54 lakh crore to be realised, the Centre now needs to raise capex by 36% in the remaining months of this fiscal, that, too, on a relatively unfavourable base (especially between October 2021 and February 2022). Until July, capex made up for 23% of the full-year target, against 27% a year earlier when a pan-India lockdown was in force for much of the first four months. Apple faces antitrust case in India over in-app fees

"The existence of the 30% commission means that some app developers will never make it to the market... This could also result in consumer harm," said the filing, which has been seen by Reuters. Unlike the court cases, filings and details of cases reviewed by the CCI are not made public. Apple and the CCI did not respond to a request for comment. In the coming weeks, the CCI will review the case and could order its investigations arm to conduct a wider probe, or dismiss it altogether if it finds no merit in it, said a source. — REUTERS infrastructure departments was less than 33% of the full-year target in the first four months. The capex of the telecom and power departments hit only 2% of their FY22 budgetary outlay until July. Railways, the biggest constituent, spent 26% and housing and urban affairs 25%. This is despite the finance ministry asking crucial departments to front-load their capex.

However, the silver lining is that the Centre's fiscal deficit in the first four months of this fiscal stood at only 21.3% of the full-year budget estimate, the lowest in about a decade, given the curbs on "wasteful expenditure" across dozens of departments and a rise in revenue mop-up. This leaves the fiscal headroom for the Centre to push up capex in FY22 without endangering its deficit target. The official quoted above, however, pointed out that capex growth has usually remained inherently volatile across months even in the past. "So, the annual reading of the data would give a more realistic picture. There should be no reason to worry on the Capex front this fiscal," he asserted.

Chief economic adviser KV Subramanian had earlier said capex had a high multiplier of 4.5, against less than 1 in even well-directed revenue spending. While base effect pushed up capex by 19 states in the June quarter from a year before to about ₹60,000 crore, it exceeded the pre-pandemic level (same quarter in FY20) by only 2.6%, according to an Icri report. However, these states' revenue spending, at ₹4.9 lakh crore, rose at a much faster pace of 1.4% in Q1 from the pre-covid level, Icri chief economist Aditi Nayar said.

While this was necessitated by increased healthcare and other spending in the wake of Covid, elevated revenue expenditure may ultimately impair the states' ability to drive up capex substantially. This may prompt the Centre to prod CPSEs regularly to drive up their capex and realise the target. Until July, capex of dozens of major CPSEs stood at 23% of the full-year target.

The GDP data for the first quarter showed that fixed investment rose by a sharp 55.3% in Q1FY22, which raised its share in the economy by over 7 percentage points to 31.6%. But the absolute size of fixed investment was still below the FY20 level.

Finance minister Nirmala Sitharaman had last month made it clear that the government won't trim capital expenditure from the budgeted level even towards the end of the fiscal, as was often witnessed earlier.
